The East Side Hotel

The Knutsford hotel is rapidly assuming the proportions of the fine building which it is to become. The cornice and other ornamental work is receiving a coat of paint, and the windows have been nearly all put in. The steamlitters have been busy during the week and temporary con-nections have been nearly completed. When all is in readiness, which will be within a a day or two, steam will be turned on and a day or iwo, st-am will be turned on and the building heated, so that plastering, which has been rapidly pushed and is com-pleted on some of the upper ito ris, may be continued under more favorable circum-stances. The sky-light in the center of the building has been put up and requires five tons of plate glass.

AMUSEMENTS.

The spectacle of a good show like the Howard Athenseum playing to a poor house is a very rare one at the Salt Lake theatre. The Rumored Changes Continue Rumors-Poand the light gathering last evening was source of surprise both to the management and the public. The many original, start-ling and entertaining acts, especially of Cinquevalli and the fire enters, called forth as much applause as ever. The show is a great one for children, and to-day's matinee should be crowded.

The Rumored Changes Until the arrival of Mr. Burley it will not be known just what changes will be made in the passenger department in this city, but it is safe to assume that several of the boys will be working for someone else within a very short time. There were rumors on the street yesterday that four or five of the boys would go out from each department—freight and passenger; that the claim force would be reduced one half and that those who were retained would have thur salaries decanized to some exhave their salaries decapitated to some extent. However, none of the employees seen yesterday had received any official noti-fication that their services were to be dis-pensed with, and any statement that may be made is merely guesswork.

Gross Railway Earnings in 1890.

The steady improvement in railway carp ings which was the feature of 1889 was con inued throughout 1890 without a break, although it was feared that after the first half of the year, the comparison being with months which showed extraordinary earn-ings, the line of steady improvement might not be continued. This happily was not the case. The heaviest earnings were in the first five months of the year, May being the banner month, the gain being no less than 13.79 per cent. April was only a fraction below it with 13.73 per cent., while January's record was 13.71 per cent. In 1880 the largest percentage of increases 1889 the largest percentage of increases were in October, when it was 12.30, and November, when it was 12.02. The whole story can be seen at a glance in this little increase of $102,425.

A London-journal gives an account of the turning of the first sod of the imperial British East Africa company's railway, which is to extend from Port Reitz, Mombasa, to Kavirondo on Victoria Nyanza. The starting point of this pioneer road, which will run from the Indian ocean to the great inland take made famous by Livingston and Stanley, lies in the burning latitude of 5 degrees north of the equator and is about one hundred and fifty miles north from the important port of Zanzibar. The completion of the proposed railway will mark a new era in the history of Africa. It means the entrance of civilization into the means the entrance of civilization into th heart of barbarism.

with questions yesterdaay that he was simply out inspecting, that his visit moant nothing special. The subject of a Garfield Beach hotel being broached, he said that matter was still under advisement, Certainly the Union Pacific appreciated that it had a great thing out that way. Mr. Burley, Mr. Baldwin said, was in Omaha, conferring with his chiefs, he might be expected here on any train. He was a man of about thirty-five, and one who had seen long service in the employ of the Union Pacific company.

conclusion was borne out by the investiga-tion. Marshal Young knew Edward John son, but did not know that he was a brother of the deceased, or that the latter had any relations here. There is no place at the fail where a body can be kept, so the narshal very properly turned it over to the coroner and it would seem that if there was any blame for the relatives not being notifies, it must fall on the latter offici. Officer R ly did spend an four—as a matter of courtesy—in cooking for Johnson's brother. He went to the saloons to find him, and it will hardly be denied that that was the most likely place to find him. As to the intimation that the cuts on the body were only mortan, that was

The examination of Thomas Brown and William Mitchell who were arrested on Commercial street by Marshal Young a few nights ago while in the act of holding up an old Scotchman named Peter Hackey, were examined before Judge Kessler yesterday. The prosecution made out a strong case, but the defense upset the whole thing. It seems that when the arrests were made, Hackey was somewhat under the influence of liquor, and fearing he might not show up, he was held in the jail as a witness. The police made a serious mistake in locking the hold ups and their victim up together. The latter was in ceased at being locked up, which made it an easy matter for the defendants to square the thing with him. So yesterday morning the old man swore that the defendants an easy matter for the detendants to square the thing with him. So yesterday morn-ing the old man swore that the defendants were not holding him up at all, but were kind hearied, Christian gentlemen. There was nothing left for the court to do but dis-charge the prisoners, and they departed with sharrity. They may thank the stupid-ity of the policy department for axionity of the police department for saving them from a term in the pen.
